5. Legislative Update

Legislative and Grants Analyst Elizabeth McCartney informed the committee about the upcoming 2023 elections, highlighting the influx of new House and Senate members in the Fairfax-Falls Church area. Charniele Herring, is an incumbent among them who will represent 33% of the districts in Fairfax. The committee plans to continue outreach efforts to her post-election. Currently, the focus is reaching out to newly elected members, providing them with legislative talking points, the CSB information, the annual report, and a presentation previously given by Executive Director Daryl Washington at the October 25, 2023, Community Services Board Meeting. The committee anticipates productive engagement and welcomes any questions or feedback. While legislative bills have emerged on the legislative information system, none directly relate to CSB. The committee will closely monitor incoming bills as they prepare for the upcoming session. On December 20th, the governor will release his budget, which includes a request for a 10% cut in operating budgets for all agencies. Despite financial challenges post-COVID, the governor emphasizes mental health initiatives, crisis services, and a focus on issues such as youth opioid substance use. Volunteers from CSB board members will be asked to speak at two hearings in January 2024. The first, on January 3rd, is for the full Northern Virginia delegation, with details pending. The second, likely on January 6th, will take place at the government center, and three CSB board members are usually involved. The committee encourages participation, emphasizing the importance of aligning testimonies with lived experiences to advocate effectively for community needs during the General Assembly Session.

6. Matters of the Public

A public member who preferred to remain anonymous shared an incident in August 2021 involving the Fairfax-Falls Church CSB. The incident involved a minor family member with a neuroimmune condition. Emergency services were called during the incident, and CSB-level crisis intervention was involved. The member provided the clinician with detailed information about the medical condition, including a letter from Children's Hospital, therapist contact information, and home office details. The member also warned the clinician about potential misinformation from the other parent, who has a history of mental illness. However, the clinician, after evaluating the situation, did not contact the therapist, offered problematic parenting advice, and labeled the member as an emotionally disturbed person in the police location of interest system. The member was subsequently reported to Child Protective Services (CPS). The member questioned the basis for the report, and the clinician cited tension, a reason which the member found unjustified. The individual emphasized that the clinician's actions have caused significant harm to the family, and despite seeking assistance from CSB, the response has been insufficient. The individual requested a meeting with the clinician, documentation correction, and someone to speak to the minor involved. The member highlighted the ongoing harm, the lack of a formal diagnosis for the minor, and the negative impact on their professional reputation as a psychiatrist. The member appealed for understanding the challenges families face when seeking help and expressed the need for a meaningful response from CSB to address the issues raised.

7. Associate Member Reports, Updates and Concerns

Laura Fonner, the Chief Clinical Officer at Psychiatric Rehabilitation Services, Inc. (PRS), informed the committee of the organization's new name, HopeLink Behavioral Health, and offered business cards for anyone interested. The organization is still operating as PRS, and both names are valid; there has been no acquisition, only a name change. Laura acknowledged that the previous name, Psychiatric Rehabilitative Services, needed to be clarified and updated. The organization started as a clubhouse 60 years ago and has expanded significantly, incorporating services like CrisisLink and peer services. The decision to rebrand was prompted by the need for a name that better encompasses their broader range of services. While some counties have opted to update contracts, both names, PRS and HopeLink Behavioral Health, remain legally valid for releases of information and contracts. Laura emphasized that the rebranding was not an acquisition but a strategic move to represent better the organization's evolution and the diverse range of services it now provides.

Committee Chair Anne Whipple took a moment to address the committee, expressing that Evan Jones would be taking over as the new chair. Anne then requested that Evan share some insights into his involvement with this organization and others over the past few years, hoping the committee members could gain more knowledge about his contributions.

Committee Member Evan Jones expressed gratitude for still being involved with the committee despite the shift in leadership. Evan shared that he has dedicated nearly 50 years of service in Fairfax County, initially with the Department of Rehabilitative Services, later transitioning to the CSB, and briefly working at the Northern Virginia Mental Health Institute. He emphasized his well-rounded exposure to the various divisions within the CSB, particularly in Employment and Day Services. Throughout his career, Evan attended numerous CSB Board meetings for over 20 years, demonstrating his passion for advocating for people with disabilities and their daily activities, services, and treatments. Recounting his journey, Evan mentioned retiring from the CSB and his recent appointment to the board on July 1st. Despite not actively seeking the role, he expressed pleasure in being recruited and agreed to join the board. Evan highlighted his anticipation for assuming the role of chair of the committee starting in February 2024. He discussed plans to improve communication about meeting schedules and reminders. Additionally, he expressed a desire for increased community involvement in the committee, mentioning ongoing efforts to facilitate this. Concluding his remarks, Evan thanked the committee and expressed eagerness about having his experience and inspiration guide the journey for the upcoming year.

8. Staff Reports

Deputy Director of Clinical Operations Abbey May shared updates, emphasizing the CSB's focus on addressing the need for Behavioral Health Expansion, the Psychiatric Bed Crisis, and the Opioid Epidemic. She informed the committee this region had applied for Opioid Abatement dollars, successfully securing funding to expand the Youth Medicated Assisted Treatment (MAT) Program. Positions for this expansion are currently being established, and the hiring process is underway, with interviews scheduled in the coming weeks.

In addition to addressing space concerns at Sharon Bulova and the South County building, the CSB is working on expanding outreach engagement teams for youth. This expansion, funded through carryover funding from the Board of Supervisors, includes small teams with about five and a half staff per team strategically placed in community settings, such as South County and Herndon, and co-located with Neighborhood and Community Services (NCS).

The CSB has formed a collaborative partnership with George Mason University for the Bridge Clinic, a MAT program, which aims to establish a workflow with INOVA to initiate Medicated Assisted Therapy for youth in the emergency department following an overdose. Abbey expressed excitement about the promising nature of this partnership and its efforts to increase access to services for youth.

Regarding the youth detox initiative, an RFP is being reissued that includes a Youth Crisis Receiving Center component. Despite not finding a vendor in the initial attempt, Abbey is optimistic that broadening the scope might attract interested parties. The CSB is also working on a longer-term plan to secure a facility for the initiative within the next five years.

Four projects were emphasized and funded through Opioid Abatement dollars. These initiatives involve expanding services related to the drug court and including two contracted positions for the Adult Detention Center (ADC) to strengthen the MAT program. Another project involves Healthy Minds Fairfax conducting focus groups to understand the root causes of youth opioid use, with mini-grants awarded to nonprofits for incentives and protective factors. Finally, the Peer Journey to Hope Card Program, launched in November along with six fully staffed peer positions offering support through various levels of care within the CSB system.

Abbey conveyed that Deputy Director Barbara Wadley-Young, who couldn't attend due to illness. Via text she informed the board about waivers in the state budget amendment: Fairfax is set to receive an additional 82 waivers on January 1, 2024. Teams are gearing up for the increased services, and there's an expectation of a smaller number of waivers for the regional allocation in FY 2024. A more detailed report on state plans for allocating additional funds for permanent and supportive housing is anticipated. Planning meetings with the Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Services (DBHDS), Fairfax Housing Authority, and CSB are underway. The board should expect a comprehensive update from Barbara in the future.

9. Adjournment

Committee Chair Anne Whipple made the motion to adjourn the meeting at 5:52 PM.

2024 General Assembly Session Update
Service Delivery Oversight Committee Meeting
February 8, 2024

The 2024 General Assembly session began on Wednesday, January 10, 2024. During the fall of 2023, board members from the Fairfax-Falls Church Community Services Board shared CSB Board priorities with legislators at the October board meeting. In December, the Governor shared his recommendations for the biennium budget, which focuses on modernizing Virginia's tax code and includes investments in targeted sectors, including behavioral health care. The budget includes $316 million for his "Right Help, Right Now" plan to provide a comprehensive behavioral health safety net.

Key budget items in the Governor's budget:

- DD Waivers: Funding for an additional 1,720 developmental disability waiver slots in the Medicaid program each year of the biennium (to eliminate the Priority 1 waitlist for DD Waiver slots).
- Behavioral Health Care Initiative: Funding for new crisis centers, mobile crisis units, student mental health services, and behavioral health loan repayment.
- State Hospitals: Investments to support state psychiatric hospitals (e.g., salary increases). A new JLARC report released this month found that Virginia's nine psychiatric hospitals are increasingly short on both beds and staff, which is posing a risk for both patients and personnel.
- Jail-based services: $500,000 in FY 2025 from the Commonwealth Opioid Abatement and Remediation Fund to establish jail-based substance use disorder treatment programs in local and regional jails.
- Opioid Abatement and Remediation Fund: Allocates $5.5 million for the purchase and distribution of opioid reversal agents and test kits and for tracking software; allocates $400,000 in FY 2025 for a one-year demonstration project for wastewater surveillance for fentanyl and norfentanyl in up to three geographically diverse localities; allocates $4 million per year for a marketing campaign and classroom-based programmatic efforts to address the opioid crisis.
- Continuation of funding for many of the behavioral health initiatives from the last budget: children's mental health, STEP-VA, increased salaries for CSB staff, permanent supportive housing funds, co-responder funds.
- Authorizes DMAS to modify Medicaid behavioral health services such that legacy services for youth are replaced with the implementation of tiered community-based services for youth and families appropriate for delivery in homes and schools and legacy services for adults are replaced with a comprehensive array of psychiatric rehabilitative services for adults with serious mental illness.
- Authorizes DMAS to seek federal authorization to implement telehealth service delivery options for certain services offered through Developmental Disability waivers.
- Authorizes DMAS to seek federal authorization to make certain administrative changes to improve access to peer recovery services.

Overview of Bills:

Waiver Services Bills

SB 610 and HB 577 would add flexibility for CSBs to manage the large influx of waivers that would come over the next two years based on the governor's proposed budget of adding 344 CL slots (172 in each year) and 3,096 FIS slots (1,548 in each year). The governor's proposal aims to end the Priority 1 wait list. The bills would allow support coordinators to request and subsequently obtain approval of consecutive waiver slot-retention requests for a period of 365 calendar days for individuals who have been assigned a Developmental Disability waiver slot. Current regulations allow for four consecutive 30-day slot-retention extensions. The bill would sunset on June 30, 2026. This structured approach would be helpful, and it could provide an opportunity to slow roll initiating Waiver services while we catch up on the staffing ratio. To manage the high number of waivers coming to Fairfax, CSB will need additional staff.

HB 908 and SB 676 would allow for more individuals to potentially qualify for LTC Medicaid and, therefore, be eligible to receive DD Waiver Services. The bill would amend the financial eligibility standards for certain waivers providing services to individuals with developmental disabilities so that Social Security Disability Insurance income is disregarded by the Department when calculating such individuals' financial eligibility for such waivers.

HB 909, SB 488, and SB 149 would add flexibility for parent caregivers. The bills would direct DMAS and DBHDS to seek to modify the program rules for certain 1915(c) Home and Community Based Services Medicaid Waivers with the goal of adding flexibility for families. HB 1318 also deals with the state plan amendments and would eliminate the requirement that in order for a legally responsible individual to receive reimbursement for personal care services, no one else be available to provide such services to the Medicaid member.

HB 499 would have eliminated the requirement that certain visits for individuals enrolled in Family and Individual Support Waivers, Community Living Waivers, Building Independence Waivers, and CCC Plus Waivers be conducted face-to-face.

Barrier Crimes Bills

Two pieces of legislation address the issue of barrier crimes as they relate to peer recovery specialists. HB 1269 would allow individuals who have had more than three years elapse since certain convictions to work at DBHDS-licensed facilities. SB 626 includes a five-year waiting period between the conviction and being able to work. It also does not include as many crimes on the list.

Crisis Services and State Hospital Bills

SB 568 and HB 1336 are a Region 2 priority supported by Northern Virginia CSB Executive Directors. These bills would be helpful as the crisis system is built out in Virginia by allowing for facilities that provide crisis stabilization services to maintain a stock of Schedules II through VI controlled substances necessary for immediate treatment of patients admitted to such facilities and the use of automated drug dispensing systems and remote dispensing systems.
